GENERAL ELIJAH M. COVINGTON

HARRIET W. BALDWIN
COVINGTON

Elijah M. Covington (1773-1848) who was appointed the first sheriff of Warren County by Governor James Garrard in 1797, took up large tracts of land, near Bowling Green, in 1795, which consisted of over 20,000 acres (7 percent of the total acreage of Warren County). He settled near John Cox (the first tax commissioner of Warren County), on Gasper River and later returned to North Carolina and moved his parents, Benjamin and Francis Moorman Covington, his three brothers and four sisters to this area.

Elijah, in July, 1797, was made a lieutenant of the 25th Regiment of militia and on January 17, 1811 was promoted to brigadier-general over the Allen, Barren, and Warren County militiamen (20th Brigade).

Rowland Madison was appointed the first county surveyor, in 1797, and served for two years. Elijah M. Covington became the second county surveyor, in 1799, and held that office until 1833, when succeeded by his youngest brother, Isaac, who held that office until 1845.

In 1808, Elijah M. Covington made a survey of the whole county for the purpose of fixing the county seat of government. He found the center of the county to be on the south side of Barren River, just east of the Water and Sewer Works of Bowling Green Municipal Utilities, and there laid out a town named Jeffersonville. It lasted only a few months of the year, 1808, when the inhabitants of the City of Bowling Green obtained an Act of the Kentucky Legislature, returning the county seat to its original place of abode.

Elijah married Harriet W. Baldwin (1781-1826), in 1804, and lived on a farm on Drakes Creek, near Woodburn, where the first four of ten children were born - Euclid, Albert, Erasmus, and Harriet. Then they moved near Bowling Green, where the remaining children were born. Four daughters were "brought out," in New Orleans, while visiting their uncle, Federal Judge Isaac Baldwin. One daughter, Cornelia, married General Richard Delafield and moved to New York City. The name "Delafield" now applies to a large section of Bowling Green, between the City and Barren River.

Bachelor son, Euclid (1805-1888), practiced law and served in the Kentucky Legislature. He lived in a home at Elm Grove (now Hartland Development).

Son, Albert Wakefield Covington, attended Transylvania University, afterwards went to the University of Pennsylvania and graduated in Medicine, married, 1853, Josephine, daughter of Robert William Wells, U.S. District Judge for Missouri. Their son, Robert Wells Covington (1856-1949), graduated from Warren College (which became Ogden College) in 1875, secured a law degree, in 1877, from the University of Virginia, and married, in 1892, Mary Wickliffe Cooper, teacher of Art at Potter College.

In 1901, Robert W. Covington helped organize the Citizens National Bank of which he served as a vice president and director, until his resignation in January, 1942.

The names: Covington Woods Park, Covington, Euclid, Wakefield, and Wickliffe avenues are familiar to us all.

1. In Jacksons of Kentucky, Their Ancestors and Descendants, W Neel Jackson wrote that John went alone to Ky to join his older brother, Burwell, in Warren Co in 1797. Although John's name first appears on the Warren tax list in 1797, Logan Co, Ky Deed Book A, p 44, shows that John was witness to a real estate transaction in Logan Co in Dec 1794. Thus, it appears that John went to Logan Co not later than 1794 and visited his wife in Mercer (see #3, below) until he moved his family to Warren between 1797 and 1800.
2. "The Cottage," located on Highway 640 near Amelia, Va has been occupied continuously by descendants of Francis Jackson, Sr since he had it built as his home in 1740.

3. In two letters (1964 and 1967) to Hattie Jackson Thacker from his home in Los Angeles, where he had lived since 1921, Gayle wrote that his wife was a sister of Mrs Clyde Hudson Follis, whose husband was baggage master at the L & N depot in Bowling Green for many years. He also stated that he and Zola had had 3 sons and a daughter as well as (in 1964) 9 grandchildren (5 boys and 4 girls.) He did not give the names of his children in the letters. He said that one son had died at the age of 7 months (c 1920) while he was residing in Detroit. In 1964, one son was managing a milling company in Redlands, Calif and, in 1967, the youngest son (35), who had been a USN medical officer in 1964, was living in Albuquerque where he was a professor of surgery at the University of New Mexico in addition to being Ass't Chief of Surgery at both the County Hospital and the Veterans Administration Hospital. In July, 1988 I wrote to Dr William R Blakeley, Eisenhower Medical Center, Suite 202, Probst Profit Bldg, 39000 Bob Hope Drive, Rancho Mirage, CA 92270, whom I believe to be this man. He did not reply.

1. Lewis Bolton's parents moved to Butler Co in 1841, and he grew to manhood there. Lewis served throughout the Civil War in the 9th Ky Inf, CSA. He was a Mason, a Democrat, and a member of the Christian Church (Kentucky Genealogy and Biography, Perrin, Battle, and Kniffin, Vol VIII.) Sometime between 1880 and 1890, he moved from Butler Co to Edmonson Co. He was a farmer during most of his life, but the 1910 Edmonson Co census, at which time he was 72, lists his occupation as "Minister." The 1880 Butler Co census includes my grandfather, "Alfred P Thacker, Jr, 23, brother-in-law, farm laborer," in the Lewis Bolton household.
2. Born 12 Feb 1813, d 10 Aug 1889, bur Mt Pleasant Cemetery.
3. Born 25 Dec 1815, d 29 Dec 1883, bur same as husband.
4. There are two questionable items regarding the children. Their names were obtained from the 1880 Butler Co and the 1900 Edmonson Co listings, plus Perrin, op cit. The total is 9; however, both the 1900 and the 1910 census reports indicate that Mary Virginia had borne a total of 8 children, of whom 7 were living. The other questionable item relates to the entries which show Estella born in July 1882 and Joseph in August 1882. If the entries are correct, these two siblings were twins, born before and after midnight on the night of 31 Jul 1882.
5. The 1900 Grayson Co, Ky census includes one John C Bolton (ED 25, Sheet 13) 26, school teacher, b Aug 1873, married 6 years to Lillie G, 24, b Mar 1876, with a son, James E, 5, b Mar 1895.
6. Name shown as Roscoe H in Perrin, op cit. Rosco B, 30, farmer, in Edmonson Co 1910 census, presumably the same man, is listed with wife, Stella, 27, married 9 years, 1st marriage for each, and children, 6a Clyde Bolton, 8; 6b Alma Bolton, 6; 6c Marion Bolton, 2; and 6d Guy Bolton, 9 mos. Edmonson Co marriage book 30, p 78, shows Alma Bolton m Chester Lindsey, 1924; book 33, p 1 shows Alma L Bolton m Ernest Nash, 1928; book 32, p 74 records the marriage of Guy Bolton and Birdie Bullock, 1927.

- | | | |
|------|---|-----------|
| 15 | #1 - Find the DAY of death in the LEFT column. Treating | January |
| 16 | this day as 0, the day before as 1, the day before | February |
| 17 | that as 2, etc., count up the column the number of | March |
| 18 | days of life given. If you reach the top of the | April |
| 19 | column before you have finished counting, | May |
| 20 | continue at the bottom of the column. If the month | June |
| 21 | preceding that of death has less than 31 days, be | July |
| 22 | sure to skip the unneeded days in the column.* This | August |
| 23 | is the day of birth. | September |
| 24 | #2 - Find the MONTH of death in the lower month column | October |
| 25 | at right. If you went past the 1st while counting | November |
| 26 | days, go back one month. Just like with days, count | December |
| 27 | this month as 0 and count up the column the number | January |
| 28 | of months of life. This gives you the month of birth. | February |
| (29) | #3 - Take the YEAR of death. If you went past January | March |
| (30) | while counting months, subtract 1 from the year of | April |
| (31) | death. Now subtract the number of years of life from | May |
| 1 | the year you have to get the year of birth. | June |
| 2 | | July |
| 3 | *LEAP YEARS: Any year evenly divisible by 4, except the | August |
| 4 | century years, unless they are divisible by 400 (1600) | September |
| 5 | is a leap year. Be sure that when you count back the | October |
| 6 | days, you skip only 31 and 30, instead of 31, 30 and | November |
| 7 | 29, to correct the number of days in the month. | December |
| 8 | | |
| 9 | | |
| 10 | RULE: 30 days hath September, April, June & November | |

EXAMPLES

Subject died 31 May 1966, aged 94 years, 11 months, 7 days.

- #1 - Starting with 31, treat this day as 0 and count back 7 days. This brings us to 24.
- #2 - We did not go past the 1st, so starting with May in the month column, count up 11 months. This takes us to June.
- #3 - We did go past January, so 1966 becomes 1965. Subtracting 94 from 1965 gives 1871.
Therefore the birth date was 24 June 1871.

Subject died 1 March 1896, aged 35 years, 7 months, 2 days.

- #1 - Starting with 1, treat this day as 0 and count back 2. The month preceding March is February and this was a Leap Year so we skip the 30 and 31. The day before March 1 was February 29. Treat the 29th as 1, etc. This lands us on 28.
- #2 - We did go past the 1st so starting with February in the month column, count up 7 months. This takes us to July.
- #3 - We did go past January so 1896 becomes 1895. Subtracting 35 from 1895 gives us 1860.
Therefore, the subject was born 28 July 1860.

NOTE: You would be wise to check your work by starting with the computed birth date and count forward.

GLEANINGS FROM HENRIETTA BENTON JOHNSON'S SCRAPBOOK

Note: The following newspaper clippings (ca. 1846-1922) are from an old scrapbook which was kept by Henrietta Benton Johnson. Most of the clippings are from Bowling Green, KY, papers. However, Mrs. Johnson lived for a time (during 1850s) in Carmi, Illinois, and some of the clippings are from that area.

135. MAJ. H. C. HINES. HIS WAR RECORD PREPARED BY A COMMITTEE OF THE U.C.V. WE KNEW HIM IN TIME OF PEACE, THEY KNEW HIM IN TIME OF WAR. THE REPORT. Our comrade, Henry C. Hines, in July 1861, joined the band of Colonel Hanson's Regiment, then located at Camp Boone, just over the Kentucky line in Tennessee, and came to Bowling Green with the command of Gen. S. B. Buckner in September of that year. Soon after this the Buckner Guides, a company of scouts and dispatch bearers, attached to the headquarters of Gen. Albert Sydney Johnston was organized under the command of Capt. Ridley, who had commanded the battalion of men that accompanied Gen. Johnston overland from California to Texas at the beginning of hostilities. With this company he served through the remarkable retreat from Bowling Green to Corinth, Miss., faithfully performing the arduous service required of each of his company. A few days before Gen. Johnston's army moved out of Corinth to fight the battle of Shiloh, Capt. Ridley's company of scouts were disbanded because its members were not familiar with the country in which the army was operating. An attempt was made to form another cavalry company of its members, but the attempt was unsuccessful and several of them, including H. C. Hines, Jno. F. Hines, John Harkreader, William L. Dulaney and Joe Bettersworth, immediately joined Morgan's command and served with it throughout the campaign in and around Corinth.

At the battle of Shiloh, Morgan's command--then a battalion--was with the reserve, which was commanded by Gen. Breckinridge, and went into action with it after 12 M. on Sunday. In the evening, near sun down, Morgan's men with other cavalry were sitting in line on their horses, an occasional twelve pound shell from the gun boats of the Federals, flying overhead, when the line of fire was suddenly depressed, and the number of missiles increased, one of them struck not more than a foot in front of the hoofs of the white horse H. C. Hines was riding. It tore a big hole under the horse who fell to his knees, and Hines scrambled away a few feet and flattened himself out to avoid the expected explosion. But fortunately it did not come. Thinking his horse had been cut in two Hines rose and said: "I will save my bridle any way," but when he caught the reins "old whitey" rose unhurt from the hole the shell had excavated. This was but one of a number of narrow escapes from death.

In the summer of 1862 Gen. Dumont with an overwhelming force of cavalry struck Morgan's command at Lebanon, Tenn., and killed several and captured some fifty-five or six of his men as prisoners, others escaping and being unable to rejoin the remnant of the command. In October 1862 comrade Hines rejoined Morgan's command, taking his place as private in the company of Capt. John B. Castleman of Gen. Basil W. Duke's regiment, with which he served until the formation of the regiment of Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, in which was a company commanded by Capt. Thos. H. Hines, in which E. L. Hines and John M. Porter were Lieutenants and Hiram W. Dulaney, Andy Kuykendall and a number of other personal friends were privates or non-commissioned officers and to this company he was transferred at his own request.

The wild riding and the brilliant fighting of this command soon became famous and when it was determined by Gen. Morgan to make the Indiana and Ohio raid, incidentally to relieve the military situation at Knoxville, then threatened as the objective point of a campaign urged by a very large military force, against which there were no adequate defensive forces, the company of Capt. T. H. Hines, or part of it, with which comrade Hines was serving, went forward into Indiana about a week in advance as a sort of avaunt courier, but in attempting to regain the Kentucky shore nearly all of them were captured at Blue Island. Comrade James K. Clarke had been captured theretofore by Federal cavalry and was then in military prison at Louisville, to which comrade Hines and Lieut. John M. Porter were at once sent. From this point Lieut. Porter was sent to Johnston's Island and Clarke and Hines to Fort Delaware. There he stayed about eight months, from the summer of 1863 to the early part of 1864, when having learned that a draft of the sick ones would be made for purposes of exchange, he swallowed some tobacco and made himself sick enough to obtain an order from the examining surgeons for his transfer and exchange, which was affected at Old Point. He lingered awhile near Lynchburg, Va., trying to recuperate from the debility occasioned by the harsh fare of his long confinement and thus become acquainted with the girl who afterward became his first wife. As soon, however, as he was strong enough to go, he left the pleasant place of his entertainment and went to his command in time to join it in the summer Kentucky raid of 1864. It would be trespassing upon your patience probably to notice even in a general way the incidents of that famous campaign, and therefore your committee desists. There are those present who will hear this report read who know that as a prompt, obedient and brave soldier, Henry C. Hines was the equal of the best of those who as riders and fighters have made the cavalry with which he served, and the new mode of fighting on foot for the first time introduced in war by its commanders, forever famous. He was captured again near Mt. Sterling and sent as prisoner to Camp Douglas near Chicago, and was there a prisoner with James A. Mitchell and others of Morgan's old command during the time that the effort was being made under St. Leger Grenfell and others, to seize that post, release its prisoners and form a column which should capture the city of Chicago itself. From this place he was again sent on exchange in January or February and joined his regiment and surrendered with it at Washington, Ga., having acted as escort to Mr. Davis and his cabinet to that point.

The qualities which made him a good soldier enabled him to win an honorable place for himself when the war was done. Returning without a dollar to his home, he engaged in business and was successful. The people, in recognition of his worth, chose him to fill high civic stations and he filled them well, but those who were closest to him knew that through life he enjoyed no other distinction so much as that he had been a faithful Confederate soldier.

136. BELOVED. MATRON OF BOWLING GREEN PASSES AWAY. MRS. JAMES D. HINES SINKS TO HER REST AFTER A LINGERING ILLNESS ON MONDAY. "How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things.:"

When the last sad summons came to the household of Captain James D. Hines and called away his beloved wife, there was not a heart in Bowling Green that did not go out in sympathy to the family over the loss of a wife and mother.

Mrs. Hallie Thomas Hines died at the family residence on State Street on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock after a lingering illness and after a confinement to her bed for many months. The death was therefore not unexpected, but hope was held out to the last that she might be saved to her family for a time yet.

There was not a better or sweeter woman ever lived in Bowling Green. Combined with a sweet Christian character, she possessed many lovable traits of heart and mind that endeared her to all with whom she was thrown. Her charity was only circumscribed by her means, and she scattered sunshine and gladness in her path. For many years she had been a consistent member of the Baptist Church and an active worker so long as her health permitted.

She was born in Bowling Green, March 20, 1843, being the daughter of the late Judge H. K. Thomas. She was married in her early womanhood to Hon. James D. Hines, a brave Confederate soldier, and who has filled many positions of trust within the gift of the people of Warren County. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Hon. Samuel D. Hines, Representative from Bowling Green in the General Assembly, and Commander Harold K. Hines, of the United States navy, and two daughters, Mrs. John B. Rodes, of this city, and Mrs. Hughes Waller, of Richmond, Va., all of whom were at her bedside at the end except Commander Hines, who was summoned a short while ago to Havana on an important mission for the government. Mrs. W. E. Hobson, of this county, was her only surviving sister. The funeral services took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence. Rev. J. S. Dill, her pastor, made a most feeling address of praise for the dead and comfort for the living, and the remains were conveyed to beautiful Fairview, where they were laid to rest until the resurrection morn.

The following persons acted as pallbearers: George Willis, Thomas Pollard, W. A. Obenchain, Robert Rodes, Jr., R. F. Dulaney, M. H. Crump, B. F. Procter and J. Whit Potter.

137. DR. W. H. BLAKELEY, one of the best-known business men of Bowling Green, died last night at 11:20 o'clock, after great suffering of less than one hour of acute indigestion. He was in his usual good health last night at 9 o'clock when he retired, but was taken violently ill at 10:30, and although everything possible was done for him he died at the hour named.

Dr. Blakeley was born in Trigg county nearly 69 years ago and came to Bowling Green to reside 37 years ago, where a year later he was married to Miss Hettie South, by whom he had six children, five sons and one daughter, all of whom but one together with his wife survive him. The surviving children are Percy D., W. H., Jr., Willis Reeves and Gayle, and Miss Sallie Blakeley, all of whom were at his bedside when the dissolution came, except the latter, who was in Nashville on a visit.

Dr. Blakeley was a Homeopathic physician and practiced his profession the first fifteen years of his residence in this city, since which time he has been in the real estate business and has probably been the cause of the sale of more real estate in Bowling Green and Warren county than any two or three agencies here. He was a big hearted, whole souled gentleman, who had many friends, who will be grieved over his sad and shockingly sudden death.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home, corner Kentucky and Twelfth streets, conducted by Dr. J. S. Dill, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which Dr. Blakeley had long been a member. The burial will take place at Fairview cemetery. The pall-bearers are Carl D. Herdman, Judge Jno. M. Galloway, W. J. Potter, Dr. G. H. Townsend, Judge Chas. Drake, W. O. Rodes, Jno. N. Loving and D. M. Lawson.

138. DEATH OF MRS. LONDON. Mrs. Louvinia Idunia London, aged seventy-three years, died on Saturday morning at 8:20 o'clock of pneumonia, at the residence of her son, Mr. Virgil London, near Plano, this county. She had been in poor health for some time. She was born and reared in this county, and had lived in the neighborhood practically all of her life. She was a consistent member of the Old Union Baptist Church.

Mrs. London leaves two children--Mrs. Burr Sears of Massey's Mill, and Mr. Virgil London of Plano; also two sisters--Mrs. George H. Kelley of Woodburn and Mrs. C. A. Parks of Wichita, Kans., and one brother Mr. E. D. Hagerman of Plano.

The funeral services will occur this morning from the residence by Rev. T. J. Ham, a Baptist minister. The interment will be in the Pleasant Hill graveyard. The deceased was an aunt of Mr. W. S. Bennett, of this city.

Mrs. London was one of the oldest and best beloved Christian women in the vicinity in which she lived. She had been a Christian since childhood and was always active in church work.

139. W. B. BAKER DIED TODAY. AFTER PROLONGED ILLNESS CAUSED FROM RHEUMATISM AND AND BRIGHT'S DISEASE. FUNERAL OCCURS TOMORROW. LEAVES WIFE, ONE DAUGHTER AND TWO SISTERS--HIGH TONED GENTLEMAN. Mr. W. B. Baker, better known to the public as Watt Baker, passed away this morning, after a protracted illness of many months. He has been in failing health for the past four years, and suffered a stroke of paralysis during that time that disabled him so much that he was never the same afterward. He was a man of wonderful vitality and activity and never gave up until taken down. He was a victim of rheumatism and Bright's disease, and was a great sufferer and had visited Hot Springs and many places in hopes of restoring his health, but not until last December did he abandon hopes, when he was taken to his bed.

Mr. Baker was born and raised in Gallatin, Tenn., from which place he enlisted in the army when a strip of a boy and fought bravely until the close of the war in '65, when he returned to find the ravages of war had swept away his home and his parents dead and gone. He came to this city to reside with his uncle, the late Larkin Baker, and has since made this his home.

He was married in 1875 to Miss Mary Hampton of this city and to this union was born one child, Mrs. Cooper Jones, of this county. He is survived by his wife and several sisters and brothers, among whom are Mrs. Annie Baker Moore, of this city, and Mrs. A. M. Blue, of Gallatin, Tenn. Mr. Baker was a progressive and prominent farmer and was a high toned honorable gentleman, who counted his friends by the score. He was well liked by every one who knew him and his death will be learned with general regret. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church, which church he united with in March last.

The funeral will occur from the late residence, near the city, tomorrow morning at [space left blank] the residence of the deceased, near the city, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, conducted by Dr. W. B. Ricks, pastor of the State Street Methodist church, and the burial will follow at Fairview cemetery. The pallbearers: Elvis H. Porter, J. H. Barclay, Will Baker, I. D. McGoodwin, Chas. G. Davenport and Edward Savage. [Following this article, the year 1908 is hand written.]

140. PROMOTED TO POSITION OF NIGHT YARD MASTER IS JAS. P. JOHNSON. The many friends of Mr. Jas. P. Johnson will be glad to hear that he has been promoted to night yard master at Bowling Green, vice Mr. Edgar Stevens, resigned, and will take charge of his new position to-night, November 1st. James Johnson is one of our Bowling Green boys, and entered the service of the L. & N. Railway Co. at Bowling Green as caller about seven years ago. He has been promoted several times and in each position he has filled he rendered good service to the company, in discharging his duties faithfully. He has now been appointed to a responsible position and his many friends desire to extend congratulations and all wish him success and we feel that he will discharge the duties of his new position with credit to himself, and to the best interests of the company that has recognized his ability by promoting him to his present position.

141. DYING, THINKS OF HIS CATS. (St. Louis Republic) Realizing he was about to die and his two cats, his constant companions and only solace might starve, George Snider, 98 years old, half walked, half crawled more than a mile to beg a neighbor to care for them. He expired muttering plaintively: "Feed my cats!"

James Ogle, the neighbor appealed to, after arranging for Snider's funeral, sent for the cats, declaring he would provide for them as long as they lived.

Snider, who was St. Louis county's oldest resident, lived the life of a hermit in his shack near Eureka. Ogle, the only person he could call friend, lives near Allenton.

Snider, because of his hermit life, was a character in the vicinity of his home. He was supported in part by the county, and partly by his own exertions as a basketmaker.

At work, as well as during his leisure moments, he and his cats always were together. His devotion to them only was equaled by their apparent affection for him. When found by Ogle they were mewling piteously, as though conscious of their loss.

Snider's life was a sealed book to his neighbors. He was known to have served in the Civil War on the Confederate side and thirty-five years ago was keeper of the first tollgate on the Old Manchester road.

Several years ago he was put on the pauper list, and was cared for out of the county funds. He had no relatives, as far as known.

142. AN ANCIENT BOOK GIVING ROSTER OF BOWLING GREEN'S MASONIC LODGE IN THE YEAR 1858. [This article has the date April 11, 1903 printed at top.] Mr. F. C. Gerard has a copy of the proceedings of the Kentucky Grand Lodge of Masons held at Lexington in 1858. It was preserved by J. W. Easton, who for many years preceding his death was a member of the Society of Shakers at South Union.

John W. Perryman, the well known Shaker, presented the book to Mr. Gerard several days ago. It gives the proceedings of the last meeting of the Grand Lodge at Lexington, as the temple was removed to Louisville the next year, 1859, and has since remained there.

The first meeting will be held in the splendid new temple that has been built there the coming October.

The old book of 1858 gives the roster of Bowling Green lodge, which then had about fifty members, and only a few of whom are now living. It will be interesting to publish the names.

V. S. Hay, who was a prominent lawyer here and afterwards Adjutant of the Eleventh Kentucky Regiment during the war, was master of the lodge. We give herewith a full list of the members:

143. MISS FANNIE PERKINS MARRIED TO HENRY KENNEDY IN ELKTON SATURDAY. Henry Kennedy and Miss Fannie Perkins secured marriage license here Saturday afternoon and left on the 6:15 o'clock train for Elkton, Ky., where they were united in marriage in the home of relatives of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins will make their home with the bride's mother, Mrs. Nettie Perkins, on Church street, who is the widow of Will Perkins, brother of Joe, L. M. and M. J. Perkins.
- Mrs. Kennedy is a pretty and attractive young lady, who numbers her friends by her acquaintances.
- The groom came here some time ago from Hopkinsville, and is a cigar maker in the factory of Perkins Brothers. He is a sober, hard working young man, who is worthy of the young woman he has won for his life companion.
- Their many friends wish them success and happiness in the new relation.
144. COL. HOBSON PASSES AWAY AT THE RIPE OLD AGE OF EIGHTY-TWO. Col. At Hobson, one of the oldest and best known citizens of this county, died Tuesday evening. The cause of death was the infirmities of old age, he being 82 years of age. Col. Hobson came to this county seventy years ago and for a long time was County and Circuit Clerk of Warren county. He was also a charter member of the order of Odd Fellows, and held nearly every position in the order, and was for some time Grand Master of the order in the State. His funeral took place Thursday morning from Christ's Episcopal church and was attended by a large concourse of people. A delegation of Odd Fellows, and also from the G.A.R. post attended the funeral, as did also a large number of the members of the bar, court having adjourned in respect to the deceased. The remains were interred in Fairview cemetery. The pall bearers were J. E. Potter, R. B. Hines, Wm. Carr, W. E. Settle, D. W. Wright and J. A. Kemp.
145. JUDGE GRIDER DEAD. THE FORMER KENTUCKIAN'S FUNERAL WILL OCCUR TOMORROW. Bowling Green, KY., Sept 30.--(Special.)--The remains of Judge L. Grider, who died yesterday morning at his home in Kansas City, will arrive in this city tomorrow morning and will be interred tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Grider was a brother of Warner U. Grider, who recently resigned his position as Mine Inspector, was a son of the late Col. Ben H. Grider, for years the leader of this bar, and was a grandson of the late Joseph R. Underwood, who was for a number of years a United States Senator from this State.
- Judge Grider left Kentucky for Kansas about twelve years ago, but even then, before he had attained his thirtieth year, he was regarded as one of the first lawyers and orators in this section of Kentucky.
146. A. J. NEWTON DIES OF DROPSEY AT HIS HOME ON CHURCH STREET. Mr. A. J. Newton one of this city's most honorable and best men died this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. James Thacker with whose family he lived.
- He was 68 years old, and the cause of his death was dropsy, from which he had suffered a long while. He leaves two brothers and a sister to mourn his death, his wife having preceeded him to the grave two months ago.

BURRELL Z. GANNAWAY

Burrell Z. Gannaway, 19th century photographer, was a descendant of John Gannaway, Sr. of Bath, England who died in 1784 in Buckingham County, Virginia. John, Sr. married Zaida Larriategui the daughter of Pablo Puzarro Larriategui and his wife Lucia Oreamuno of Barcelona, Spain. Their son John Gannaway, Jr. was born 2 August 1720 in New Kent County, Virginia and died 1770 in Buckingham County, Virginia. Circa 1746 John, Jr. married Mary the daughter of Edmund MacGregor of Aberdeen, Scotland.

Robert Gannaway, son of John, Jr., was born 7 September 1756 in Albemarle County, Virginia and died 1804 in Buckingham County, Virginia. On 27 October 1779 he married Lucy Walker and on 23 March 1788 their son John, VI. was born. He married 17 April 1811 Mary Walker Robertson a daughter of Jeffrey Robertson and his wife Judith Mills.

On 24 March 1830 John, VI. and Mary became the parents of our subject in Rutherford County, Tennessee. Burrell began his career as a daguerreotypist circa 1851 in Murfreesboro, Tennessee. He worked there until his marriage on 1 January 1857 to Martha Jane Baldwin of Blount County, Tennessee at which time he moved his business to Shelbyville, Tennessee. Here he became an ambrotypist until the outbreak of the War Between the States. From 1861-1865 they resided in Rome, Georgia where Martha kept a most interesting diary during those perilous times.

When hostilities ceased in 1865 he moved his family to Millersburg, Kentucky where he practiced his profession for one year before moving to Franklin, Kentucky where he established a photographic studio on the east side of the public square. Here, for four years, he made numerous quality photographs which can be seen today at the Kentucky Museum and Library at Bowling Green and in private collections in the Simpson County area.

In 1871 Burrell removed to Fort Smith, Arkansas where he spent the remainder of his life. Here he photographed many native American Indians whose images were later housed in the museum of Pawnee Bill in Pawnee, Oklahoma and in the court room of Hanging Judge Parker in Fort Smith.

Burrell and Martha were the parents of five children: Charles Burrell, born 1858 Shelbyville, TN., became a medical doctor and married Hattie Banks in 1899; Robert Henry Bruner, born 1860, married Annie Childs; John M., born 1863, was a photographer in McAlister, Oklahoma where he also served briefly as county court clerk; William Robert, born 1866, graduated in pharmacy from Vanderbilt University, married 1891 Ella Jane Hollingsworth and lived in Monroe, Louisiana where he died in 1935; Virgil T., born 1869, died at age thirteen months.

B. Z. Gannaway spent his life recording the lives of others and thus has left us his legacy in numerous localities for future generations. He died 10 June 1899 in Winslow, Arkansas and was interred at Fort Smith.

The Rich Pond Methodist Episcopal Church South,
Rich Pond, Warren, Co., Ky.

On 15 July 1885 the congregation of the Rich Pond Methodist Episcopal Church South purchased one acre of land to construct a building for worship. Joseph Hamilton Skiles and his wife Vonnie Peters sold the land to the church, located on Halsell St. in Rich Pond Grove. (Halsell St. was named for John Edward Halsell, a son of William and Mary (Garland) Halsell, and was born 11 Sept. 1826 in Rich Pond, and died 26 Dec. 1899 in Fort Worth, Texas. He served two terms in the U.S. House of Representatives, beginning in 1883, and served as mayor of Bowling Green from 1888-89). The land was part of the Charles A. Skiles property that was left to his son, Joseph H. Skiles, at Charles death 14 Oct. 1877. The property was secured by the Skiles Family when Charles father William Skiles purchased the land 29 Sept. 1815 from William and Lucy (Clark) Croghan of Jefferson Co., Ky., (Va. Military Survey). Lucy (Clark) Croghan was a sister to George Rogers Clark and William Clark. At William Skiles death, 8 Mar. 1822, several acres of land were left to his sons Joseph G., William Hamilton, and Charles Arbunkle Skiles.

The Rich Pond Church served the Woodburn Circuit of the Bowling Green District, ca. 1880-1934. The Rich Pond congregation consolidated with the Woodburn M. E. Church in 1934 because of a decrease in revenue. The church property was sold at auction 28 June 1934, with the proceeds of the sale going to the Woodburn M. E. Church. The property was purchased by Mr. V. O. Cassetty. On 8 Apr. 1909, one half acre of the church property was sold to Martin and Amanda Bruns, leaving the original church property consisting of one half acre to be sold in 1934. The property was purchased by Mack and Barbara King in 1965, (the compilers family).

NIGHT RIDERS - CALDWELL COUNTY

During the Black Patch Tobacco War, William Henry Wilson, of Crider, Ky., farmer and horseman, refused to be intimidated by the Night Riders. His tobacco was sold, although the low prices were punitive. Also the Night Riders issued dire threats against it. His brothers, Sumner and Charles Wilson, also farmers in Caldwell County, sold theirs too. This of course mightily angered the Night Riders, as Henry especially, encouraged all the tobacco farmers in the area to sell. One night the Night Riders came to Henry's farm and shot into the front door, and left a note telling him that he was on the "death List". Henry's brother Sumner Wilson soon brought a 38 Smith and Wesson pistol to Henry. It had belonged to their father, Alexander Wilson. Sumner said to Henry, "Onbie Nabb is telling all over Caldwell County that he will shoot you on sight". Obviously, Mr. Nabb did not bother to keep his identity secret, as the other Night Riders tried to do. At that time, Henry Wilson was working nights at the Henrietta Opera House in Princeton whenever there were any performances there. One night, just before closing, Henry saw Onbie Nabb come into the Opera House. After the performance was over, Henry went around closing and locking doors and turning out lights. Henry went out the front entrance, and found Onbie Nabb waiting for him. Henry got off the first shot and killed Onbie Nabb. This happened shortly after midnight, March 27, 1908. Henry fled the scene and hid out in various barns for about a week. One night his brother Charlie found him and brought a horse. He said, "Henry, this is the fastest horse in Caldwell County. Take him and ride to a certain steamboat landing where there will be a steamboat a few hours from now". Henry did, found the steamboat and rode the horse down the stairs to the hold.

He went to Salisbury, Missouri. Some days later, he found a negro man he knew, and hired him to take the horse back to his brother. For some time he lived there under the name of John Mansfield, since friends and relatives of Onbie Nabb threatened to look for him.

Henry's wife and children remained in Princeton for some months before he felt it safe for them to follow him to Salisbury. His wife told him the feeling of most citizens in Caldwell County was in his favor.

On August 29, 1908, a friend in Caldwell County, who was a lawyer for the "Hill Billies", the organization fighting against the Night Riders, wrote to Henry. He proceeded to tell about the campaign for Sheriff of Caldwell Co. He told Henry, "all you told me about the Night Riders is true". He said the political campaign will be a fight to the finish between the Night Riders and the Hill Billies. On that day there were 5,000 people in Princeton for a parade and political speakers.

On Jan. 27, 1909, Sumner Wilson wrote to Henry telling him that he had sold their tobacco, 3,755 lbs. 270 lbs. of dirty trash for one cent per lb. and 955 lbs. of good trash for 3 cents, and 455 lbs. at seven cents. This was dark tobacco. This was a total of $229.20, and Henry's part came to $124.20.

Henry was indicted for manslaughter, but never tried. In 1911 he was pardoned by Ky. governor Augustus E. Wilson. He then named his 5th and last child after the governor. He never set foot in Ky. again. Later he moved his family to Booneville, Arkansas and went into the real estate business. He was also a part time "revenuer" and conducted 75 raids on whiskey stills in Scott County, Arkansas. On Feb. 23, 1924 he was ambushed by bootleggers in broad daylight in Booneville. As he lay dying, he killed one of the bootleggers. He is buried in Bethlehem Cemetery, Crider, Ky. six miles from Princeton.

At least two other persons were very prominent anti-Night Riders in Caldwell Co. One was Princeton policeman Joh Wilson (no kin to Henry Wilson). He felt it necessary to leave, so moved his family to Clovis New Mexico.

Mrs. Mary Lou Hollowell (Robert H.) played a large part in the Black Patch War. Most facts have been lost, but she brought suit against some Night Riders at the Federal Court in Paducah. She too, had to leave Caldwell County. She and her family fled to Illinois. Later they moved to Pinckneyville in Livingston County, Kentucky. She died in 1965 and is buried in the Pinckneyville Baptist Church Cemetery.

William Henry Wilson was the grandfather of Ruth Dozier Snazelle, 782 Covington Ave. Bowling Green, Ky. 42103.

* * * BOOK REVIEW * * *

ALLEN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, VITAL STATISTICS REVISITED, 1852-1904, BIRTHS - DEATHS - MARRIAGES, by Martha Werst Jackson. 1988. Book is 8½"x11", soft cover, 78 pages (including index). Price $16.50 postpaid. Order from author at 509 Pea Ridge Road, Scottsville, KY 42164.

This book--Mrs. Jackson's fourth genealogical publication on Allen County--is divided into four sections: (1) Deaths, pages 1-24; (2) Births, pages 25-49; (3) Marriages, pages 49-59; and (4) Index, pages 59-78.

A typical entry in the death-record section gives the person's name, age, date & cause of death, father's full name & mother's given name. The death dates appear to fall primarily between the years 1853 to 1861. A gap then exists until the years 1903-1904, with the exception of a few death dates for the years 1852, 1874, 1878 and 1879. The author has made some additions and corrections in this and the other sections of this book, which are appropriately underlined.

Entries in the birth section of this work give the person's name, sex, date of birth and name (or initials) of both parents. Maiden name of the mother is included. The years covered in this section appear to be 1852, 1854-55, 1859, 1861, 1874, 1878 and 1900. A few birth records from the years 1857 and 1858 also appear here.

In the marriage section of this book, a typical entry gives the names of the groom and bride (including maiden name), their ages, if this is a 1st or 2nd marriage for either party, and date for when application was made for the marriage license. Entries in this section cover the years 1853, 1855-59, 1861, 1878, 1903 and 1904.

We, as genealogists, owe a great debt to the many people of our nation who, like Martha, have put these often difficult-to-read records into such an accessible format. Thanks Martha!
